Featured Artist: Holly McCain

I use oil paints to record my experience of living on the Central Coast of California. I live blocks away from the ocean, and I find it to be of the most incredible inspiration with its rocky shore and changeable skies. My plein air pieces attempt to incorporate my love of color along with an atmospheric feeling. I also enjoy painting still lifes, often using heightened color.

Originally from Massachusetts, Holly moved to the San Francisco Bay Area in 1969 where she completed her BA in Art/Interior Design at CSUSJ. In the ensuing years, she owned a plant/design shop, remodeled houses, and got her teaching credential before teaching high school for 20+ years.

Holly achieved a dream of moving to Cambria in 2011. Since then, she has rekindled her love of painting, starting in watercolor, then moving to oils. As a former World and European History teacher, she taught about the arts. Now, she is delighted to explore art, primarily plein air, through practice, painting weekly with the Wednesday Irregulars. Holly volunteers at Cambria Center for the Arts and has served in the past as Gallery Director. Her paintings are displayed there as well as in Monarch Gallery and other places in Cambria and online at: fineartamerica.com/profiles/holly-mccain.
